Dear Sir/Madam:

The British Library Document Supply Centre attempts to acquire all worthwhile conference material [proceedings, abstracts, etc.] as comprehensively as possible in order to build a national resource for the UK research community. Special efforts are made to collect conference 'publications' which are not available through normal book selling channels.

We have received a request for the title cited on the enclosed order. It would be very much appreciated if you could supply us with one copy. Please send the item with your invoice to the address quoted at the top of the attached order letter. If you require prepayment, please send a proforma invoice to the above address.

All invoices need to include an invoice number, your company name and address, details of each item, the total amount payable and your bank details. The British Library prefers to send remittances to a designated email address, so please include this with your bank details. If this is not possible, your remittance will be sent by post.

Please query any price more than £150.00 [GBP Sterling] before supplying. British Library terms and conditions apply – copy available on request.
