Dear Dr. Mastorakis,

7 August 2006

Re: WSEAS Transactions on Electronics

We would like to take this opportunity to thank you for providing Elsevier Bibliographic Databases with a complimentary 2006 subscription to the journal noted above.

We are pleased to continue coverage of your title in 2007 and would like to request renewal of the current complimentary subscription. We will assume that you will continue to provide 2007 issues unless we hear otherwise.

Your cooperation will ensure continued abstract & indexing (A&I) coverage by Elsevier Bibliographic Databases. Databases include EMBASE, Compendex, GEOBASE, EMBiology, Elsevier BIOBASE, FLUIDEX, World Textiles and Scopus which is the world's largest A&I database of scientific and social sciences literature. For further details, please visit www.elsevier.com (click on bibliographic databases) and www.info.scopus.com.

Inclusion in A&I databases increases dissemination of authors' work because linking technologies drive additional traffic to individual articles, promoting journal brand awareness and subscription sales. Our databases include standard A&I data, including references. Please note that we do not provide any full text or content to third parties.

We would appreciate your cooperation in dispatching each issue immediately upon publication. In order to make coverage of your title more expedient, please inform us should there be a possibility of establishing digital delivery via electronic feed.

Feel free to contact me for additional information or to inform us of any changes concerning the publication or your contact details. Thank you in advance for your continued cooperation.

Sincerely,

(This letter is generated automatically and therefore not signed)
